VOL. XIV THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1918 No. 13

AN URGENT CALL TO COLLEGE MEN

Remington Arms Co. and Scovill Co. Ask for Men

Chance for all to Earn Money and to Serve Their Country.

President Thomas has received a number of appeals from various sources during the past two weeks asking for men to work during their summer vacation. As there are a number of men in college desirous of obtaining positions for the summer the Campus will publish for their benefit all the information that it receives.

The Remington Arms Union Metallic Cartridge Company of Bridgeport, Conn., sent an appeal for men to work in their machine shops where they are turning out shells and small arms for the government. They have a training school at their plant where inexperienced young men are sent for a short period to learn a particular line of work. While at this school you are paid from 30 to 40 cents per hour to start. After leaving this school you are employed in a particular department where you are put on piece work which enables you to earn from 40 to 60 cents per hour. They work eight hours and pay time and one-half for all over eight hours.

From the Scovill Manufacturing Co. at Waterbury a similar appeal came. They offer about the same remuneration and also have an organized school for teaching the inexperienced applicants.

Several men are needed by the Department of Agriculture of Vermont through the months of May and June for work in white pine blister rust control at Thetford, Vt. The rate of pay is $2.72 per day, straight time.

From the West Side Y. M. C. A. in New York we have received a letter asking for young men between the ages of nineteen and thirty to act as tent leaders at Greenkill Camp situated on a lake about ninety miles from New York. There are about one hundred boys in the camp at one time, and there is a leader for every seven boys. They average from 12 to 18 years of age and the boys pay $9.50 board per week. As the camp is run at cost no salaries are paid to the leaders. Each leader receives his board and expenses.

This is a splendid opportunity for some young men to get excellent experience in handling young boys and by training them will be rendering a service to the country.

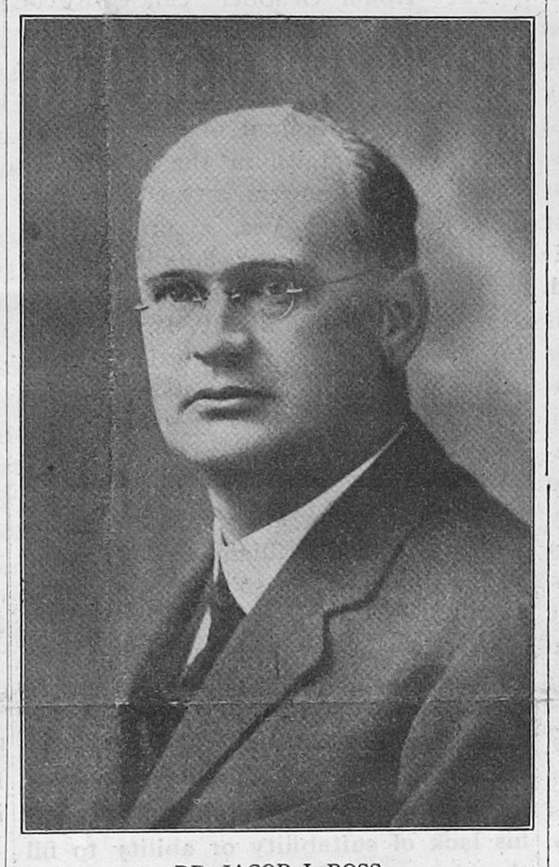
Further particulars on any of these positions may be secured at the Campus office or 3 Hepburn Hall. Plans are now under way which will enable The Campus to publish some opportunities for the women of the college.

The fifth reunion of the class of 1913 has been postponed until after the war by decision of the committee in charge.

TWO MEMBERS OF COLLEGE FACULTY LEAVE FOR WAR SERVICE

Dr. Ross Called For Medical Service at Oglethorpe, Ga. Professor Lawrence Enters Y. M. C. A. Work

Both Are Recent Additions To The Faculty—Dr. Ross Will Not Return Professor Lawrence Expected to Teach in Summer Session



DR. JACOB J. ROSS

Dr. Jacob J. Ross and Prof. Henry W. Lawrence, Jr., are among the members of the faculty, who offered their services to the nation for war work. Last week both Dr. Ross and Prof. Lawrence received summons to report for service.

Dr. Ross, who is a graduate of the University of Vermont, has been a practicing physician and was for a number of years physical director at Syracuse Uuiversity. Last fall he came to Middlebury from the Berry schools at Mount Berry, Georgia, where he had been acting as instructor in physical education. During his stay here there have been many improvements in his department for he has been instrumental in establishing courses in First Aid and Public Health and Sanitation, in connection with the new Military Art department. More emphasis has been laid on sanitation and hygiene, especially with reference to camp and war conditions. The freshmen course in physical education has assumed a more practical aspect, for Dr. Ross, who is eminently fitted to conduct such a course, has made it indispensable to the college curriculum.

Dr. Ross has not confined his activities to his courses but has acted as practicing physician among the students. He has analyzed the drinking water of the town and college and has been much interested in other measures for the preservation of public health and sanitation.

The enlistment of Dr. Ross in the Medical Reserve Corps and his subsequent call to service means a great loss to the college. It is with regret that the students and faculty witness his departure to assume his duties as first lieutenant at the Medical Officers Training School, Camp Oglethorpe, Georgia, on April 18.

HENRY W. LAWRENCE, JR.

After his graduation from Yale University in 1906, Professor Lawrence accepted a position as assistant professor in History at Yale College and Sheffield Scientific School. Following this he studied one year at the University of Paris and returned to assume his new duties as Acting Professor of History at the University of Vermont. In 1911 he went to Dartmouth College, where he served as instructor of History for six years. Last spring Professor Lawrence was called to Middlebury to fill the vacancy in the History Department made by the death of Professor Wetherell. During the present college year he has offered in addition to the usual history courses, a course in Sociology which has proved most valuable.

He has taken an active part in the life of the college and has been especially interested in the Y. M. C. A. work. Several interesting and instructive lectures on the present war have been given by Dr. Lawrence, both at the college and out of town. He is intensely interested in international conditions and is well fitted to talk on the subject.

W. S. C. CAMPAIGN BURSTS TUBE

Report of Chairman Shows $150 Mark Passed

Funds Now in Treasury Will Carry Work Thru the Vacation.

That the college is behind the noble work which the War Service Committee is doing was evidenced by the manner in which it responded to the campaign which the Committee launched last Friday.

The report of the chairman of the collecting committee at the time of going to press shows that the thermometer burst with a bang:—

German Club	$ 6.50
4 friends	5.00
40 faculty	42.47
11 senior men	6.50
26 senior women	14.50
13 junior men	6.50
23 junior women	14.00
35 sophomore men	18.50
22 sophomore women	11.00
31 freshmen men	15.50
23 freshmen women	12.00
Total	$152.47

It is possible that a few supplementary subscriptions may be noted in the next issue of The Campus.

With the small balance in the Treasury and this generous addition on the part of the faculty and students, the Committee hope that they have funds sufficient to keep them out of debt till the opening of the college next fall.

PARKER—MERRILL PRIZE SPEAKING

On Friday evening, April 19, the annual prize-speaking contests for the Parker and Merrill prizes will be held in the McCullough Gymnasium. A patriotic program of unusual interest has been worked out this year, for Professor Davison has arranged the selections to follow in chronological order many of the chief events of United States history. They cover the period from the Declaration of Independence to one of President Wilson's recent speeches. It is interesting to note that the contest will be held on the anniversary of the Battle of Lexington.

Do Your Part

We are at war with the greatest war machine the world has ever seen. Over one million of our men will soon be in the trenches holding back the tremendous drive the German army is making on the western front. In less than a month we will be leaving Middlebury for a five months' vacation. Can any of us in the present grave crisis our country is facing spend these five months leading an idle life or resting after the "hard" work we did during the last college year?

Every college man and woman in the country should deem it a duty to do something this summer and see to it that that something is worth while. Never before in the history of our country has the demand for intelligent men and women been so great. Every available man and woman is needed in order that our country and the rest of the world may come out of this gigantic struggle victorious. By victory we mean the defeat of autocracy and the triumph of a new democracy.

There are appeals for help coming in constantly to all colleges for students during the summer months, and in order that Middlebury men and women may know where they are most needed The Campus will publish all information it can get as to opportunities for summer work. This is a year when everyone can combine opportunity for earning a little money with that of patriotic service. Let every Middlebury student get into the army of Uncle Sam's workers and do his share in carrying out the work our army and navy are doing on land and sea.

Basketball Letters

For the first time in the history of Midlebury College she was represented by a varsity basketball team. That the college had a wealth of good material in this sport was made evident by the good record the team made during the past season, winning all of its games and gaining the championship of the State.

The question now arises as to what insignia shall be awarded to the men who were responsible for bringing this honor to Midd. Shall it be the regulation varsity letter or what? In view of the fact that the time put in by these men for practice is almost equal to the time put in by the football and baseball men and certainly as much as that put in by the track team, and since the Athletic Association has voted to keep basketball as a major sport, it seems that there is only one answer to the question and that is, award them the regulation varsity M.

Show Your Appreciation

Many people appear to have forgotten that "cuts" aren't given them to use for pleasure. It is true that the spring weather furnishes prospects sufficiently alluring to cause any ordinary mortal pangs of regret at the thoughts of classes. But it is also true that these last days of college are among the most important, for the semester's work is rapidly and thoroughly summarized. It is the last opportunity some of us have to grasp the principles and ideas set forth during the courses and a splendid chance to seize further information, which will make the course more complete and therefore more valuable to us. We are not gaining anything by "cutting", neither are we injuring anyone but ourselves. Let's show the instructors that we have the right spirit and that we are really interested. No doubt they would enjoy a cut as much as the students.

Some of the professors are offering extra classes in order to make their courses more complete. Many students have been heard crabbing because they feel compelled to attend them. It is the professors who are entitled to the exclusive right of crabbing since it is they who are inconveniencing themselves to accomodate the students.

CONTRIBUTIONS

It is reported that there was some grumbling among the men of the battalion when we were called upon to drill in the snow for a half hour last Friday afternoon. We do not believe that this is typical of the spirit of the battalion as a whole.

Major McFarland reminded us at the time that we were much better off than the men in Picardy. "If you think this is hard", said he, "remember the men who are fighting over there".

Our first hundred thousand Americans went to the battle singing. Our mates in the trenches, sleeping on straw with rats for bed-fellows, make light of their hardships. For them there are days and weeks of monotonous inactivity, or of blinding, deafening, nerve-disrupting shellfire, with death lurking just over the parapet.

For us, when our three hours of drill are over, there is warmth, shelter, rest, and the companionship of friends.

In times like these any man who complains when he is called upon to undergo discomfort for a season should be clothed in soft raiment and conveyed in a baby carriage to the nearest Home for Old Ladies, where the sun will not smite him by day nor the moon by night.

Crush This Animal

The "Honor Grabber" is one of the worst inhabitants and greatest pests of every college and university. Middlebury is a college and we cannot therefore avoid the fact that we too have raised such germs. These individuals, who are annoyingly numerous, have their collective instincts abnormally developed. Yes, they actually suffer from the collecting mania.

The idyllic dream of these ambitious students is to belong to every society or organization from the social and scholastic fraternities down to the Amalgamated Association of Energetic Organizers in the dark, and to accumulate a list of honors so long that when the annual "Lady Messenger" comes out below their printed countenance extra room will have to be made for the long list of "things he belongs to".

The "Honor Grabber" can easily be distinguished, not by his fruits, but by his insiduous methods. Primarily he or she is, in popular parlance, a "lovely mixer", an individual of ample assurance, sublime faith in the superiority of his personal powers, a tactful manner and procedure. Yes, a producer or multiplier of concrete results in the general art of bringing home the turnips. He is so obliging about doing things for the man in power, in order that he make an indelible impression of his ability. Another thing that helps surprisingly—when watched he can be seen doing a "bit" of real work in order to achieve a few favorable comments and start this "Brilliant Fellow Stuff" ball rolling. It doesn't take much to start it.

Now comes the shallow lucre; officers and membership actually begin to flow to him. He accepts all important positions which he can contrive to make fall his way, regardless of what his conscience ought to tell him about his lack of suitability or ability to fill the place properly. He lets the lowly other fellow do what is done, his own promise of achieving specific labors being followed by vain repetitions only, and philosophizes on his own supreme executive power. Chronically and perpetually he is terribly busy. But that string of honor he gathers is infinite.

When our friend, the "Honor Grabber", is through college he has a full measure of empty glory. He has usurped many opportunities for signal service to his fellow students and his alma mater, and for the most part has served not. Now men the remedy lies with you at large, in your closer discrimination as to good faith and earnest effort.

Midd Spirit

A letter from Mrs. Mary M. W. Eaton, widow of the late Professor Eaton, will interest any of the Middlebury men who may reach Italy. She says: "I wish I might in some way be of service to any of the Middlebury boys who may come here: it would be such a pleasure to do anything for them". Mrs. Eaton's address is: Via Ricasoli 54, Siena, Italy.

Books for Soldiers and Sailors

Last October sixty-four dollars was raised in the college for the war service libraries maintained by the American Library Associatioin at cantonments, training camps, forts, naval stations, on vessels and overseas. The whole fund contributed by the American people amounted to $1,700,000, not a dollar of which will be spent for administration, salaries, supplies or transportation that can be saved for the purchase of books. But in addition to the books already obtained by purchase or gift, at least a million more books are needed at once. Hundreds or thousands will be purchased, but every cent available for purchases is needed for the sort of books that cannot be expected as gifts. Therefore, hundreds of thousands must be obtained as gifts.

The response of the college to the call for money was prompt and hearty. Let the answer to the call for books which is now made be no less enthusiastic and generous.

All of you have books that you have enjoyed but will not read again. Pass them on to the men in uniform. Many of you have books that you like so much that you would hate to part with them. These are just the books that the boys would enjoy most too. Pass them on.

Tales of adventure, detective stories, standard fiction; technical books, textbooks, books of travel, history biography, and poetry; interesting books in foreign languages,—all such books are right to give, provided always they are up-to-date, live, and attractive.

Bring the books that you have with you here at college to the Library before you go home: those that you have at home, take to your nearest public library. They all will be sorted, labeled, and sent to the proper distributing station.

Proving Its Worth

Last year the students of Middlebury subscribed a goodly sum of money towards the erection of a dormitory, to be called Middlebury Hall, at the Doshisha University in Japan. The March issue for this year of "The Missionary Review" contains an article which clearly describes the progress and rapid growth of this popular institution. Following is an extract from the article:

"The interest which Japanese feel in their great Christian University, the Doshisha in Kyoto, is evidenced by the generous gift of $30,000 from Mr. Yamamoto, one of her graduates, toward a modern library building. Christian leaders in Japan feel that it marks the inauguration of a new period of such benevolences. The Doshisha deserves recognition as one of the foremost institutions of instruction. This year the enrollment is over a thousand. More than five hundred men and women qualified in the entrance examinations who could not be received into the school on account of lack of class rooms, equipment and teaching force. The chapel seats only 700 so that the evangelizing equipment of the school is thus restricted."

Class Day Program

The class day committee, which is composed of the following: Elsie Monteith, chairman; Goldie Courtemanche, Louise Norris, Urban Parker and Kenneth Gorham, has made the following appointments: address by the president, Forrest Myrick; oration, Richard Buffum; class prophecy for the men, Guy Christian; ivy oration, Charles Lyon; class will, Henry Crippen; class history, Louise Norris; essay, Margaret Chatfield; poem, Dorothy Brown; class prophecy for the women, Elsie Foote.

The hours I spent on thee, dear sock
Are as a string of purls to me,
I count them o'er by the weary clock,
My hosiery, my hosiery.

And 'round the leg I slowly reel;
Now joyful paeans to the Heavens I hurl,
I've turned the heel.
Oh, stitch that dropped, uneven row—
I kiss each blight and strive at last to learn
To reach the toe, sweetheart, to reach the toe.

What Is Midd Coming To??

Richard H. Buffum raised Cain at the Uproar House Monday, had a pipe stuck in his physiognomy and was heard to utter unprintable language. Strange things do happen.

Everybody was disappointed at drill Monday when Major McFarland failed to kiss Gorham on either cheek after conferring honors upon him.

Several reports upon the Battle of Pearsons' Hill have been received. The only injuries reported are sixteen torn trouser knees—thirteen rights, two lefts and one unclassified.

Professor Abbott in Eco. 2 told the students about a friend of his who had traveled throughout the United States studying the parents in different places and finally came to the conclusion that the American parents as a whole were "a bunch of jelly fishes".

Professor Abbott wants to know what to call the off-spring of these jelly fish.

We suggest "suckers".

If it wasn't for the canes that they use to keep themselves from catching cold those four seniors who are sporting those vividly hued hats might be mistaken for sub-freshmen. They have anything beaten for greeness we have ever seen.

Canfield attempted to dislodge Dean Wright from his chair in the department of English during one of the English 4 recitations by using the Dean's desk as a foot rest.

INTER-CLASS TRACK MEET AT COMMENCEMENT

An inter-class track-meet is to be held as one of the features of Commencement Week. The date while not assured as yet will probably be either in the forenoon or afternoon of May 3 or 4.

In the fall meet between the sophomores and the freshmen the team of 1921 easily defeated the sophs, but in the indoor class-meets the sophomores have scored the most points in every meet.

A large shield is offered for a prize on which the numerals of the class winning the meet will be engraved. This shield is good for ten years.

The outlook of the four classes and the prospective point winners are as follows:

The seniors will build their team around Captain Brewster and Parker in the weights, Christian in the sprints, Drew in the middle distance events and Myrick in the jumps. Several of the 1918 men have left college, but even at its best the present senior team had very little track material.

The junior class has lost more athletes by the war than any other class, and track is no exception. To the followers of this sport some of the following names will give some idea of what the 1919 class track team was once. Tatro in the jumps and weights, Darby in the sprints and quarter, Cullen, Peabody and Aldrich in the distances besides several minor stars. At the present time the juniors' strength is in Captain Jones who holds the college and state records for both the mile and two mile runs, Bower the speedy varsity quarter-back for the sprints, Canty in the weights, Holbrook in the pole vault, Hebard in the jumps, Cheesman in the hurdles, Bolivar in the weights and Towers in the 440 and 880 yard runs

The sophomores while having no stars have several men who should win firsts. Their main strength will, however, be in securing many seconds and thirds which is the way most track meets are won. In the gym. the men who have been showing up the best are: Thomas in the jumps, Farnham and Canfield in the jumps and the middle distances, Vroom and Breen in the weights, and Cohen in the jumps. The other men of experience are: Brackett, Burckes, Cooley, E. Ross and Willey. Heath, their best sprinter is at present away and it is not known whether he will return or not.

On paper the freshmen team appears to have an edge on the rest. Brown, the captain, proved himself a consistent man in the low hurdles and in the 220 yard dash last fall. Brouwer will undoubtedly win several firsts in the middle distance events, pole vault and broad jump, Jewett and Keppler will take their share of points in the weights, while Murnane, Swift and Richardson should place in their events.

An interesting meet is expected. Practice is being held whenever the weather allows.

JUNIOR PROM WILL BE HELD MAY SIXTH

The annual Junior Promenade will be held Monday, May 6 in the Gymnasium. The committee has been hard at work to make this Prom a noteworthy one, in spite of unfavorable conditions. The Prom will begin at 8:45, and last until 4 the following morning. The juniors have engaged Calhoun's orchestra of seven pieces for the music, and there are many other attractive plans in prospect. Admission will be $2.50 a couple.

Look this order of dances over and see if you would want to miss them.

CHI PSI DANCE

Alpha Mu of Chi Psi held their annual dance on Saturday evening, April 6, in Hepburn Social Hall. The hall was decorated with numerous banners, skins and Chi Psi shields and pillows Calhoun's orchestra furnished excellent music. Following the custom, one representative of each fraternity and one non-fraternity representative were invited. These men were Kenneth Gorham, D K E, Howard Watson, D U, Roland Holbrook, K D R, Guy Christian , A S P and Charles Danolds. The patronesses were Pres. and Mrs J. M. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bryant, Mrs. M. O. Mason, Mrs. F. A. Farnsworth and Miss Eleanor Ross. During the intermission the entire Alpha grouped around the piano, and gave the Mu version of "A Chi Psi Went Meandering". "Auf Wiedersehen" marked the end of an enjoyable occasion

WAUBANAKEE SELECTS FIVE NEW MEMBERS

The Waubanakee senior society which was established in 1911, and near the close of each year elects the strongest men in the junior class to serve as its active chapter the following year has pledged the following men:—

Frederick L. Jones
John K. Cheesman
Howard W. Watson
Roland C. Holbrook
Clarence Hamilton

Jones has broken more track records than any other man in Middlebury for many years. His showing at Springfield and Boston making such men as Overton of Yale and Halfacre of Williams stretch every muscle to take first place from him by only a three-inch margin were remarkable accomplishments. He is also a member of his class baseball football, hockey and basketball teams. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Cheesman is very prominent on the musical roster of the college being a member of the Glee Club, Banjo and Mandolin Club and the college choir. He is an alchemist and on the gym team. He is top sergeant Co. B, and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Watson is captain of Co. B, Middlebury College Battalion. He plays on his class baseball team, is in the college choir and Glee Club, a member of the Alchemists and the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Holbrook is manager of the track team and plays on his class baseball and basketball teams. He is in the college band, is corporal in Co. A, and is a member of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity.

Hamilton is manager of football, secretary of the college union and corporal in Co. B.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP FALLS TO SENIORS

The last game of the women's basketball series was played Friday evening, April 5, in the gymnasium. The seniors and sophomores were closely matched from start to finish as the underclassmen gave their superiors a decidedly lively time. Several times the balance tipped in favor of 1920 but the whistle blew just as 1918 shot the basket which clinched the game in their favor.

The juniors were unable to muster a team and were forced to forfeit the game to the freshmen.

The line-up:

Seniors (14)		Sophomores (12)
B. Jennings	l.g.	E. Foote
D. Brown	r.g.	G. Moore
C. Webster	c.	R. Bruffee
D. Kendall	l.f.	A. McKenzie
M. Chatfield	r.f.	L. Corkran

Goals from floor: 1918—Chatfield (2), Kendall (2), Webster (3). 1920—Corkran (2), McKenzie (3).

Goals from foul: 1920—McKenzie (2).

Referee—Miske. Timer—A. Novak.

Time of halves—12 minutes.

This marks the end of a most successful season, in which the freshmen are the champions. The senior team until now invincible, met their match in 1921, who have shown a high degree of excellence in the games they have played. The champions for both the men's and women's colleges are the seniors.

Valedictorian and Salutatorian Chosen

It has been announced that the valedictorian of the class of 1918 is Charles J. Lyon. Estella Atwell received the appointment of salutatorian.

Further information regarding the Commencement program will be published in the next issue.

ALBANY LAW SCHOOL

The course of study leading to the degree of L. L. B. extends over a period of three years. Students who have pursued one or two years in a law office may enter the second year class as a candidate for a diploma but not a degree.

The high standard of the school and the facilities which the city affords with its legislature, libraries and courts, offer unequalled opportunity for a thorough and practical training.

FRESHMEN WIN ANNUAL HAT SCRAP

Last Thursday evening the much postponed hat scrap between the sophs and the freshies was held. The frosh came out on top by the slender margin of one hand after a battle royal. The contest was held between the Old Chapel and Painter Hall and practically the entire college was ont to witness it. Along the chapel wall all of the freshmen were lined up while the sophs took their marks alongside of Painter. At the firing of a gun by starter Buffum the two sides made a mad rush for the hat, which was placed mid-way between the two lines. Hinchey '20 was the first man to reach it but overslid in the mud. Breen '20 and Murnane '21 piled on top of him followed by the rest of the two classes.

After three minutes of grunting, shoving, pushing, pulling and all manner of rough-house Buffum again shot the pistol and the contest came to an end. After a long discussion by the senior council it was decided that the fresh had seven hands on the hat to six for the sophs. The announcement was received with great joy in the freshmen camp, as it meant that the pea-green hats came off at once. The heroes for 1921 were Brown, Murnane, Noonan, Lee and Pierce while Breen, Farnham and Ross each had two "mitts" on the hard fought for trophy for the sophomores.

The Banshees pledged the following juniors on Friday night, April 12: Margaret Shay, Helen Stilphen, Hazel Coburn, Laura Fales, Barbara Russell, Alice Tomlinson, Ruth Clark, Elizabeth Johnson, Dorothy Nash, Helen Paine and Louetta Haynes.

The members of the Pi Beta Phi fraternity entertained their Grand Vice-President, Mrs. Nina Harris Allen, for several days last week.

Two Faculty Members Leave For Service

Recently Professor Lawrence offered his services to the Y. M. C. A. for work in the American camps and has now received a call to fill a vacancy at Camp Devens made by the coming departure of Mr. Pierrel who is now in charge of a portion of the Y. M. C. A. work there. He will assume his duties as educational director of one hut April 20. For a few days he will work with Mr. Pierrel in order to become acquainted with the routine. At present there are eighteen huts at the camp with 3,000 men assigned to each. During the next six months the number of huts will be increased for the camp expects to welcome from 80,000 to 100,000 new men.

Professor Lawrence expects to complete his work there in time to return as an instructor in the Summer Session of the college and will resume his duties in the History department next fall.

GORHAM ELECTED ACTING ADJUTANT

Kenneth M. Gorham was promoted to the rank of acting adjutant at the regular drill of the college battalion Monday afternoon. In speaking of the promotion Major McFarland said, "Since it is the custom in England for the King to confer honors upon his birthday, and since today is my birthday, I am going to confer an honor upon a senior member of this battalion. For the interest he has shown in his work and for the rapid improvement he has made while a corporal, it is with pleasure that I honor Corporal Gorham with the rank of acting adjutant."

The drill Monday was declared by the officers to have been the best they had seen. The men went thru the close order work with lots of snap and then tore up and down Pearsons' Hill like veterans. It is expected that an exhibition drill will be given on the fair grounds for the benefit of the townspeople. Every man in the battalion is working hard to be in the best shape for the review at Commencement.
